

The SafeWise Report Announces the 50 Safest Cities in Massachusetts

The SafeWise Report released its "50 Safest Cities in Massachusetts" report this week. To compile this report, SafeWise used the most recent FBI crime data from 2013 to analyze and rank these cities, which all have a minimum population of 8,000 people.

"It was impressive to see that over 70% of these cities are on our list for the second time," SafeWise security analyst Rebecca Edwards said. "There's no question that strong community policing and the efforts of concerned citizens help these cities maintain their excellent safety records."
